EASi BINDER EFFECTIVE DATE and TIME

On September 13, through September 16, 2004, TAIPA's EASi binding system experienced a problem with the effective date/time of coverage that was printed on the EASi Binder Form. The EASi Binder Form, which expires in 30 days, is provided to the insured once the application has been submitted and accepted by the EASi system. The binder shows that there is coverage for losses beginning at the time of the submission.

During the time period shown above the EASi Binder Form for some EASi submissions showed a date and time prior to the submission date and time.

The date and time shown at the top of each page of the assigned application form is correct. The coverage for losses should start at this date and time, and the policy is effective at 12.01am on the following date. If a future effective date was requested on the application the policy will become effective at 12.01 on that date.

We regret that the integrity of the Texas EASi system was compromised during this period of time.

If you or your claims departments have any questions, please contact our customer service department at telephone number 512-444-4441 or e-mail address at custsvc@taipa.org

Sincerely,

Margaret Alsobrook
